Policy researcher at RAND and a professor of policy analysis at the RAND School of Public Policy, Rand Report Committee Member. His research is focused on strengthening pathways in education and the workforce.

The RAND research team will be in attendance to share and engage with conference attendees on findings from the Building Impact report. Panel presentations and group discussion will focus on the present state of architecture education, practice, and innovation (chapter 3) as well as collaboration between academia and architecture firms (chapter 5).

10:30Break*10:45*FIU Faculty Guest Speakers

The FIU Department of Architecture's Industry Board is a dynamic group of leaders from the professional community who volunteer their expertise to strengthen the bridge between practice and FIU's academic environment.

The board supports initiatives in technology, design innovation, resilience, and human-centered environments. Members contribute their expertise to curricular development, mentorship, and community engagement, ensuring that our students are prepared to design innovative, resilient, and responsible spaces for all.

This panel discussion will elaborate on the Board's mission and the importance of bridging the gap between education and practice.

The panel discussion will be followed by a presentation on the unique course offered by FIU that helps students prepare for taking the Architectural Registration Exam.
